Newsletter of the Deer Run Community Organization - 2013 Summer Issue

DRCO Elects New Board

DRCO residents elected a new board at the May 2013 Annual Meeting. Three community-spirited volunteers agreed to serve for the next two years on DRCO's governing board, along with Dori Murdock, who has one more year to serve as President, and Sandra Bullock, who was elected to her third two-year term as Treasurer. Gene Bullock volunteered to edit the DRCO newsletter.

Outgoing President Kathy Dobson and outgoing Vice President Schalk Leonard were roundly applauded for their outstanding service to the Deer Run community.

The DRCO community owes these wonderful volunteers their gratitude and appreciation because they work hard to preserve the qualities that make Deer Run such a great place to live and raise a family.

Community Yard Sale Brought Sun, Fun and Fabulous Bargains!

Everybody loves a bargain -- and what a fun way to connect with neighbors, get rid of all that unused stuff and turn surplus treasures into dollars. Thank you Dori Murdock and Kathy Dobson for organizing another very successful multi-family, multi-community yard sale.

Letter to Homeowners - Dori Murdock, DRCO President

I hope you are enjoying the start of Summer! This year we will mail the newsletter to all homeowners, because we only have emails for 70 of 141 homes. The newsletter will have valuable info about the Deer Run neighborhood, such as events, tips on maintaining your home, the DRCO budget, and projects the board is working on.

As a reminder, our Guidelines require all homeowners to submit a request for approval when planning any exterior modification; such as cutting trees or painting their homes. The Board appreciates your continued adherence to these Guidelines, as their intent is to maintain the appearance and harmony of our community, thus preserving the value of our homes.

I hope everyone has noticed the improvements in our landscaping, particularly at our entrance near Noll Road. If you notice anything that needs attention or have a comment or suggestion, please contact the Board via email at deer.run.co@gmail.com

Our Friendly Caring Crew

Great neighborhoods are no accident. They start with good locations, close to schools and shopping. But they stay great neighborhoods because people care and want to be good neighbors. It's not just about property values and pride of ownership. It's about living in a community where they enjoy belonging.

The wonderful volunteers who manage our homeowners association deserve special thanks. These friendly folks enjoy being of service to their neighbors and the Deer Run Community. They also take their responsibilities seriously. They know that a community that doesn't maintain reasonable standards can rapidly decline. Most residents understand the need to keep up their property and follow a few reasonable guidelines to preserve the character and attractiveness of their community. But being caring stewards sometimes means having to be firm with those who fail to comply with our covenants.

But our caring crew also realizes that circumstances vary. Sometimes personal hardships are at the root of temporary lapses. We care about our community; but we also care about each other, and know that many families are struggling. If you have a problem with deferred maintenance or payment of dues, please talk to us. Above all we want to be good neighbors, and that's what great neighborhoods are all about.

Living With Backyard Wildlife - Gene Bullock

Those who love wildlife and Nature can't imagine a world without animals living wild and free. But people who love wildlife can sometimes love them to death, because they can't resist feeding them. But treating wild animals like pets puts them and their human neighbors at risk. Wild animals that expect to be fed by people can become a danger to children and family pets. That's why it's illegal to feed them.

Fortunately, there's a simple way to enjoy wildlife without turning them into behavioral problems. Just don't feed them! Don't leave pet food outside. Don't make your trash containers easy to raid. Don't make food easily available. Wildlife like raccoons spend most of their lives finding food for their families -- and they are amazingly resourceful! But raccoons are also good parents who normally teach their offspring how to stay out of trouble. They are naturally wary and smart about avoiding conflicts with neighborhood dogs, cats -- and people. They've had a lot of practice surviving in close proximity to people. But raccoon mothers are also very strong and protective of their young. Many dogs have learned too late not to underestimate the strength and ferocity of a mother raccoon defending her kits.

Well-meaning people are often too eager to rescue "orphan" birds and wildlife that seem lost or abandoned. The parents are usually nearby keeping watch as their offspring start exploring the world outside their dens. Many don't survive these early adventures; but mom usually knows best, so these so-called "orphans" are better left alone.

Wild birds and animals have adapted and survived on their own for eons. We need to know when our help does more harm than good. We need to recognize the bounds of our relationship with wildlife and help them remain wild and free.
